AGENDA TOPICS

- In this week, we had a follow up meeting with our client to discuss more about the Sales Prediction
- Since Trang, Minh, and Dorian signed up for improving the Sales Prediction model provided by the client. They had a private meeting with them without two other team members.
- In the meeting with our client, he showed us more about the code. He also showed us how to compile and run the code as well as the current result of his model
- Greg also helped us debugging our error when running his code on our machines
- On our scheduled team meeting on Wednesday, two “teams” met and shared our plan to tackled two main problems that we were facing: improving Sales Prediction model and refactoring our Truck Detection code
